

Pam's 50th Birthday Song

Sung to the tune of: New York, New York

By Brenda Darnley Martin

August 4, 2005

Start spreading your legs
You're in NEP
The feisty red haired nurse
Has been saying for years

And speaking of years
She's lost all her fears
Now that the big Five – Oh is coming her way
And she will take it in stride
It's all just part of the ride
For Pamela it's just another day!

She'll start wearing more red
And turning more heads
As she struts her stuff
All over town.

Dressed in her nurse whites
Oh what a fright
When she's suffering through a hot flash
But she will take it in stride
It's all just part of the ride
As long as she's got her chocolate stash!
